GERMAN ADVANCE IS NOT AS RAPID AS REPORTED

The Serbians Are Fighting Bravely and Desperately in Opposing the German Advance and May Hurl a Strong Force Against the Bulgarians in an Effort to Join the French. The Allies Yesterday Demanded That Greece Declare Her Position and it Was Later Stated the Situation Had Been Cleared—What Was Done is not Known—Germany Reports Fall of Two Important Serbian Cities—Berlin Says Russia is Concentrating Vast Army for the Balkan Campaign—Italians Still Gaining—Steamship Captain Said in September He Delivered Supplies to German Warships in the Atlantic.

(By Associated Press.)

London, Nov. 24.—The main Serbian army is grouped on Lukosovo Plains and is only opposing a thin screen of the Austro-German advance, according to a Saloniki dispatch, but it is possible the Serbians will attempt a bold drive against the Bulgarians toward Uskup and Veles in an effort to join the French.

It is reported they plan hurling ninety thousand men against a hundred and twenty thousand Bulgarians guarding the defiles of Katchnik and Kortchou.

The entente ministers yesterday presented the Greek premier a collective note demanding that Greece immediately define her attitude. The Greek cabinet was quickly assembled and it was stated afterward the situation had been cleared according to an Athens dispatch.

The fate of Monastir is still unknown and this makes it apparent the Teutons are not advancing in Serbia as rapidly as first reports indicated.

Berlin revives the report that Russia contemplates a great campaign in the Balkans and is now concentrating a large army at Odessa.

The Germans also announce the fall of Mitrovitsa and Pristina, Serbia.

Rome says the Italians advanced further in the fight on the heights of Gorizia and expect the fall of that place soon.

Violent fighting continues on the Dardanelles, according to Constantinople without apparent advantage to either side.

Russians claim slight advances in northern and southern parts. The eastern front and the western front are relatively quiet.

Carried Supplies to Germans.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 24.—Captain Falkenberg of the American steamer Berwind, told the jury today how his ship in September last year carried two thousand tons of coal and a large quantity of provisions to five German warships in the Atlantic. Joseph Poppinhaus, the defendant official of the Hamburg-American line, acted as superintendent of the cargo and was in charge on the trip. Falkenberg testified that owing to storms he was sixteen days in transferring the cargo to the warships.

Did Not Violate Law.

(By Associated Press.)

Washington, Nov. 24.—Secretary of State Lansing said today that so far as he was able to judge the German attaché Boyed was not guilty of any violation of law in supplying funds to send provisions by vessels to German warships at sea.

May Disarm Allies.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 24.—Greek Premier Skouloudis is quoted today as saying if the Allies retreat across the border, Greece may disarm them, although the government is not committed to this point.

More Allies Reach Salonika.

(By Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 24.—A Salonika dispatch says more Allied transports heavily loaded with troops reached there today.

AEROPLANES MAY NOT FLY TODAY

(By Associated Press.)

Austin, Texas, Nov. 24.—Owing to a hazy atmosphere the U. S. aero squadron did not leave here this morning. If the weather clears they may start this afternoon.

SEED CORN TESTING CAR IS COMING

Frank Clarke, With Car Will Be Here
Monday, Nov. 29th—Important to Farmers.

The question of good seed corn is the most important question confronting the farmers of Brazos County. The government is doing everything possible to aid them in solving this problem and to this end is sending over the country a car equipped for testing seed corn, and this car in charge of Frank Clarke, formerly of this city, now of Fort Worth, will be here next Monday, Nov. 29th, to test the corn of the farmers of Brazos County and also to teach them to do their own testing.

The car is coming to Bryan under an arrangement with the City National and the First National Banks, which two institutions are paying the expenses in order that the farmers of the county may receive the benefits of this important demonstration.

The Eagle is authorized to state that the first 100 farmers calling at either of the above named banks and agreeing to bring 25 ears will have same tested free of charge.

Mr. Clarke asks that the farmers be impressed with the fact that the corn is not being tested to see if it will come up, but to find out the strongest and most vigorous stalks and get rid of the thousands of stalks that produce no corn at all. Mr. Clarke will secure a picture of the work in progress here, of the farmers in attendance and will use same in the leading State papers. He is anxious for the biggest crowd at his old home town of any place visited and the Eagle urges every farmer who can possibly do so to be here next Monday, November 29th.
